About Kloek

At Kloek, small-scale living for people with dementia means independent living with warm care nearby. We want people with dementia to live as normal a life as possible. This is how small-scale living for people with dementia looks at Kloek:

Each resident rents his own apartment - Each apartment has its own toilet, bathroom and kitchen - There is a common living, cooking and dining area per 9 residents - Residents follow their own rhythm as much as possible - Family is very welcome at any time.

Working at Kloek

At Kloek you largely determine your own work schedule, based on what residents need and in close consultation with your colleagues. Does a resident want to sleep in? Does he find it relaxing to sit quietly a few times a day with a caretaker? Then you arrange that. Our caretakers and nurses are, as it were, a guest with residents and they keep control as much as possible. That is why working at Kloek is very different from working in a regular healthcare organization.
